DETAILED ACTION

Applicant is reminded to update Related Application's of page 1 of the Specification to include the status of these application (i.e. pending, abandon or patent number). Applicant makes reference to a related application serial no. 09/923,227, filed September 4, 1997. examiner thinks this should read serial no. 08/923,227.

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claim 1 is rejected under the judicially created doctrine of double patenting over claim 1 of U. S. Patent No. 5,594,786 since the claims, if allowed, would improperly extend the "right to exclude" already granted in the patent.

The subject matter claimed in the instant application is fully disclosed in the patent and is covered by the patent since the patent and the application are claiming common subject matter, as follows: a central station for facilitating visual and data communication relating to patient care; a plurality of remote stations linked to the central station having means to process the visual and data communication relating to patient care; a private branch exchange; the central station facilitates visual and data communication between the plurality of remote station and the remote station includes telephone circuitry connected to the private branch exchange.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Moore [US 4,237,344].

Considering claim 1, Moore disclose a health care communication system having, a) a central station for facilitating visual and data communication relating to patient care (see col 2, lines 41-46; b) a plurality of remote stations linked to the central station having means to process the visual and data communication relating to patient care (see col 2, lines 52-59); a private branch exchange connected to a plurality of telephones for bi-directional communication (see col 4, lines 21-29, col 6, lines 55-65 and figs 2 and 3); c) the central station facilitates visual and data communication between the plurality of remote station (see col 6, line 66 to col 8, line 7; d) the remote station includes telephone circuitry connected to the private branch exchange (see col 8, lines 7-44).
